A FAMILY AFFAIR.

A BATTLE ON THE FRONTIER

Greeks Cross the Border in the Vicinity of Greyna.

TURKISH TROOPS OPEN FIRE

The Greeks Holding Their Own Against the Attack-Hakki Pasha Moving His Division Against the Invaders-The Moslems Enthusiastic for the Opening of Hostilities

London, April 9.-The Evening News publishes a late dispatch from Elassona, where is situated the headquarters of Edhem Pasha, the communider-in-chief of the Turkten forces in Macedonia, giving the details of a battle between Greek and Turkish forces. It is not possible to decide at this moment whether or not the Greeks are the same body of men who were described In an earlier disputch as having crossed the frontier into Turkey, and as having been attacked by the Turks, but as the figuting is said to have occurred in both instances in the vicinity of Grevna, it is likely that the Greeks, who, the first dispatch said, were brigands, were really in regular troops who have advanced into Turkish territory despite the orders of Crown Prince Constantine. If this turns out to be the case it will render a situation that is already perilous far more so, and may result in open hostilities between the two armies on the frontier without the formality of an actual declaration of war.

It appears that at about 3 o'clock this morning 1,000 Greeks, under cover of darkness, crossed the frontier at a point about twenty miles southwest of Grevena, which is situated fifteen miles due north of Nalakassi, the nearest Greek frontier town. They were discovered by the Turkish outposts of the second line, who fired upon them, and then fell back upon their own main body. Orders were im mediately given for the Turks to advance and attack the Greeks.

At 5 o'clock in the morning the Greeks were discovered in a forest, which was surrounded by the Turks. The nature of the ground was such that it was im possible for the Turks to deliver a very effective fire and the Greeks were in no small measure protected by the trees. The latter replied briskly to the fire of the Torks and succeeded in holding their advance in check. At the time the dispatch was sent the fighting was proceeding vigorously and the Grecks were holding their own. A detachment of artiflery te being hurried to the scene, and it is thought if this can be brought into action the Greeks will be speedily dislodged from their position.

It has been impossible to ascertain whether there are any regular troops among the Greeks, but the band is so large that it suggests the probability of a number of them being present. If this is so, fight-Ine along the whole frontier is inevitable

Ednem Pasha will advance immediately one that regulars are taking part in today's fighting. Orders to that effect have been issued, and it would not be surprising if the whole Turkish army should soon be advancing into Greece The situation is extremely critical and actual war has not been so near since the troubles began as it is at present. Tele grams, the nature of which it is im possible to ascertain, are constantly pass ing between the military commanders at Grevens and the government at Constanti

TURKISH ARMY ADVANCING.

All Commands Held in Readines for Instant Action.

Elassona, April 9.-The Greek force that this morning invaded Turkish territory has held out so desperately against the Turkish forces dispatched against them that Edher Pasha has sent orders to Hakki Pasha, the commander of the Turkish division at Grevna, to move against the Greeks. The greater part of Hakki Pasha's division i ow advancing against the invaders, and a bloody fight is expected when they reach the position held by the Greeks. The troops are enthusiastic because of the opportunity that has offered for them to have an engagement with the hated Christinns

Edhem Pasha has notified all his gen erals to held their commands in readiness for instant action. The reserves have lefe their encampment here, in order to move closer to the first line of defense. The city is today the scene of the greatest military At short intervals orderlies dast away to the commanders of the troops in the vicinity of Elassona, while other officers fill the telegraph room, waiting for ding messages. The Turkish army is ready and enthusiastic for the opening of postilities, and there is not a man in it that would not welcome orders to move

FIRED ON THE AUSTRIANS.

A Fusilade Between the Insurgen and a Warship.

London, April 9 .- A dispatch to the Daily News, from Canea, states that the Austrian warship Crown Princess Stefani arrived vesterday at Kissamo, which place is being besieged by the insurgents. As tre warship approached the town she holsted a fing of truce, and later, after coming to anchor, sent a boat with two soldiers to dis for the Turkish fort. The insurgents did not heed the flag of truce, but they fired on the boat. The warship replied with her quick living and six-inch guns dily stopping the fire of the insurgents

Today the Crown Princess Stefani sent a number of boats to the town for the purpose of embarking the most of those expressed a strong desire to leave the place. The insurgents again fired on the boats, whereupon all the warships in hay took part in a bombardment of th Christians. They fired eigthy shells, and the rebels found the gunnery practice so good that they ceased their fusindes on the boats until after they had taken the refugees on board. The boats embarked twenty-seven women, children and old and after they had started for the Austrian gunboat Sebenico, which it had been arranged should bring the refugee to Canea, the Insurgents, who were watch ing the proceedings from the hills, again fired upon them, without, however, doing any damage.

The Sebenico arrived here this afternoon with the refugees, and after landing them started back for Kissamo to get other Moslems who wished to leave the place, the capture of which is daily threatened by the Christians.

ASKED FOR REINFORCEMENTS.

The Turks Attack Greek Positions at Three Points.

London, April 9. - The Athens corre spondent of the Chronicle telegraphs that the commander of Tsouffiani, a Greek frontier post, has sent a message to the commander at Trikkala, stating that a hand of insorgents crossed the frontier this morning, after which the Turks attacked the Greek positions at Fenika, Britantza and Bimbashi. As, however, a request was made for only a single company of re-enforcements, the situation was evidently regarded as not being grave.

The dispatch adds that nothing further was known regarding the fighting in Athens at a late hour tonight.

DISCUSSING A BLOCKADE.

British Attorney General States the Probable Action of the Powers. London, April 9. - In the House of Comnous today Sir R. E. Webster, attorne general, replying to a question by Sir E. T. Gourley, Liberal, member for Sunderland, said that the nowers had not ye decided whether or not they would establish a blockade of the ports of Greece in the event of her final refusal to withdraw her troops from Crete, nor had it as yet been determined whether such blockade would be merely pacific, or one implying the existence of a state of war.

If the blockades were pacific, he said, it would apply to Greek vessels only, but if it should be established as a belligeren blockade, it would apply to all vessels though it was probable that merchant ver sels of neutral countries at Greek ports at the time of the establishment of the block ade, would probably be allowed time to complete their cargoes before sailing.

RADICALS FAVOR GREECE.

Italian Deputies Protest Against the Government's Cretan Policy,

Rome, April 9.—A stormy scene occurred in the Chamber of Deputies today when Marquis Visconti Venosta declared the policy of Italy in regard to Crete in reply to an interpolation by a Radical member of the chamber.

The Marquie urged the necessity of Italy's remaining in the European concert as a means of averting a general outbreak of war, nevertheless, he said, the govern-ment would always act in a conciliatory spirit toward Greece. During his remarks he was interrupted frequentty by shouts, hoots, cat-calls, etc from the Radicals, and the oproar finally became so great that the president was compelled to suspend the sitting.

A LEXOW WITNESS IN JAIL. He Has Been a Professional Gambler

for Many Years. Atlanta, Ga., April 9.-The star witness adpromoter of the recent Lexow investiga tion in this city, is tonight in jail. His name: William E. Harp, a well-knownmanabout-town When he made charges against the police and detective department and alleged that they were protecting criminals and receiving bribes, the matter was at once taken up and the inquiry which followed showed that he knew what he was talking about

Since that time, it is said, the detectives have kept a constant watch on Harp. A few days ago they raided a private parlor in the leading hotel here, and captured a umber of swell young men, gambling for high stakes.

Among them was Harp, and the detectives went before the grand jury with evidence to show that he had been a professional gambler for many years, and was the leader of the enterprise. The grand jury returned thirteen indichments against Harp, and he was railroaded into where a prompt conviction followed.

In a few days, he will be a of the chain gang, although his length of sentence has not yet been determined.

Atlanta, Ga., April 9.—Telegrams from Ozark, Ala., and Valdosta, Ga., and theillfated town of Arlington, Ga., show that this section was visited today by another Gulf cyclone, ascending the Apalachicola valley and sweeping northward with terrific force, to the confluence of the Chattaboochee and the Flint rivers, where it divided. One section went toward Ozark, where trees were uprooted and houses blown to pieces. Several lives were lost, among them being Mrs. Powers, who was caught beneath the falling timbers of her bome and crushed. Her husband was unable to save her and was himself badly

THE PORTO RICO REBELLION

Reports of Horrible Atrocities Committed by Spaniards.

ONE HUNDRED MEN MURDERED

The Whole Island Terrorized and People Fleeing From the Island. Defenseless Men Slain Who Had Nothing to Do With the Revolution-The Uprising Premature.

Havana, April 9.-The news of the revolt in Porto Rico was known to the auborities here two weeks ago, but was suppressed by the censor. Now there are reports of atrocities committed by the Spaniards at Yaquo and Adjuntas, where more than 100 men have been killed by the process known here as componte. The whole island of Porto Rico has been terrorized and the people are beginning to flee to Santo Domingo and the United States, because nobody feels safe from arrest or death at the hands of the Span-

"We cannot forget the crimes committed eleven years ago," says a letter from Ponce, when the Spanish journalist Francisco Cepeda was componted and thousands of Porto Ricans were barbarously assassinated."

The same letter says that the Spanish column of Col. Rosal, near Sabaua Grande, has slain all the defenseless countrymen found crossing its route, although they had nothing to do with the revolution. The revolution was well planned and ild surely have been a success had it not been that Quineros, Velesz, and others, rose prematurely against the orders of the principal secessionists. The leaders had amed a later date for the movement, expecting help from New York. Neverbeless, the spirit of the revolution has spread all over the country and in the near future the whole island will be in arm against Spain. It is not true that insignificant or uninfluential persons are the prometers of the conspiracy in Porto Rico. On the contrary many rich and powerful citizens are partisans of the Separatist cause.

A GREAT CUBAN VICTORY. Spaniards Retired, Leaving Dead and Wounded on the Field.

Havana, April 9 .- A big battle has been fought at San Miguel de Encrucijada, Pinar del Rio province, between the Spanish battalion of Gerona and some 1,000 insurgents, led by Vidal Ducasse and Perico del Gado. After a hand-to-hand fight the Spanish retired, leaving on the field their dead and wounded, and horses, arms, and ammunition. Since Macco's time no other battle of such importance has been fought in the province of Pinar del Rio. The effect produced in Havana by the news is almost upprecedented.

The Spanish explain that the combina tion of two columns which were to at tack the Cubans on two sides, failed. They say that the battalion of Gerona was ordered to maintain without help s bad position; to encourage the insurgents to attack, and then to drive them to a certain place, at which the other battallou was expected to overwhelm the patriot

The victory has been especially grateful to the Cubans, as they were in need of ammunition, and had decided to use their last in this action. They captured 200 rifles and about 300,000 rounds of ammunition.

A report from Santiago de Cuba says that Gen. Linares reports a victory over the insurgents at Sabanilla. An expedition has landed fifteen miles from the city of Havana, at Punta del Indio.

A dispatch from Madrid says that the contract for the loan which, it was stated yesterday, the Spanish government had decided to make from the Banco de Espana has been signed, the bank advancing to the government 50,000,000 pesetas, or $10,000,000, in Spanish silver, and agree ing to give 100,000,000 pesetas more if asked by the minister of finance to do so. Although the wording is pesetas and silver, it is well understood the bank pays in its own paper money, and the whole contract means only an authorization by the government to enlarge his issue of currency.

PRAISE FOR THE JUNTA.

The Landing of Roloff Will Hasten Caba's Triumph.

Havana, April 9.—Gen. Garcia has sent to the government at Camaguey a commication giving news of the safe landing of Gen. Roloff's expedition, and saying: "The junta at New York deserves oil the praises of the patriots for that important effort, which will hasten the Gen. Garcia adds that if the junta is not thwarted in its work by the American Navy the independence of Cuba will e achieved soon.

Gen. Roloff has started for Camaguey to in the government.

In Santa Clara Province Gen. Gomez is harassing the Spanish columns, and the Spaniards are unable to force him to retire toward the Jucaro-Moron Trocha, where Weyler plans to catch Gomez be tween two fires

RIVERA IN HAVANA.

The Wounded Patriot Is Taken to Cabanas Fortress.

Havana, April 9. -Gen Ruis Rivera, the mander of the insurgents in the Province of Pinar del Rio, who was captured on March 28 by the forces of Gen. Hernandas, was brought here at 2 o'clock this afternoon from San Cristobal, where he had been confined. Col. Bacailao, Gen Rivera's chief of staff, who was captured while attempting to carry his leader, who was wounded, from the field, was also brought to Havana. The train on which the prisoners traveled did not come to the regular station in the city with the prisoners on board, but was stopped at the Haciendados warehouses, where Rivera and Col, Baccalao were tranferred to a tug, in waiting. Gen. Rivers who is still suffering from his wounds was carried on the rug, Col. Baccalo walking by his side. On board the tug were the chief of police and a number of other officers. The boat steamed across the bay to the Cabanas fortress, where the prisoners will remain until their fate is decided.

The arrival of the prisoners was not expected, and there was no crowd gathered to see them.

A CAPTURE BY GARCIA.

He Has Taken the Spanish General Aldave, Prisoner.

Havana, April 9.—A private report from Santiago de Cuba says that Gen. Calixto Garcia has captured near Mansaniilo the Spanish general, Aldave, and that the orgents are willing to exchange him for Gen. Ruis Rivera Though the report is dealed here by the authorities, a long dispatch about it has been sent to Gen. Weyler. A COLD-BLOODED WIFE.

She Said She Would Pray for He Husband's Death.

New York, April 9.-F. Albes, an unen ployed pianomaker, was stricken with heart disease in front of No. 382 First avenue, this evening, an hour after he had had a stormy interview with his wife, whom I left a year ago, at her home at No. 505 East Sixteenth street.

WEATHER PREVAILS

The River, Dashed Into Fury, Sweeps Over the Levees.

MANY LEVEES GIVING WAY

All of the Country for Twenty-five Miles Around Greenville Under Water-Unfortunate Victims of the Flood Cut Off From Rescue Die of Starvation.

New Orleans, April 9.—Wild and tem-pestuous weather still continues to pre-vail on the lower Mississippi, to the great danger of the levee system. A severe storm raged all last night from Vicksburg to the gulf, rendering the navigation of the Mis sissippi dangerous and sweeping the waves over the levees. The telegraph wires were blown down here and at other points, completely cutting off Greenville from the world. At New Orleans some damage was done to property, and thelevees were badly washed and weakened at various points. In the Tensas levee district, of North Louislana, in deference to the procla tion of Gov. Foster and the several police juries, nearly the entire population has turned out with their teams to work on sent $10,000 to the Tensas levee district today, and the other riparian parishes will take similar action Terrebonne sent 400 laborers to the front today, to work on the Lafourche levee. The whole population seems to be thoroughly aroused to the imminunce of the danger, and are urging the authorities to use all available cash, and even credit, to save the levees. The mayor of Placque mine has prohibited all steamboats from landing there on account of the danger to the levees. A levee patrol train is now ru daily between Baton Rouge and New Oreans over the Yazoo and Mississippi Valle to inspect the levees and report on their

RAILROAD TRACKS WASHED OUT. Farmers Drowned While Trying to Ford Swollen Streams.

Mellette, S. D., April 9.-The surrou ing country is flooded, and railroad tracks are washed out. There have been ao mails here for two weeks. The James River has risen seven feet higher than ever before It has washed out the three large from bridges in this county. Three farmers were reported drowned at different points while trying to ford swollen streams. All farm lands on the river bottoms have been swept of buildings.

GRAVE DANGER AT BUXTON. It Is Feared the Town Will Be Swept Away.

Buxton, N. D., April 9.—This town is in grave danger of being swept away Today all past records of the high water were broken, and the Red River is steadily rising at the rate of a foot an hour. The water has reached Front street, and is on a level with buildings. Everyone is preparing to move. With every tributal from Lake Troverse to Grand Forks raging torrent, and the lower river still solid, it is feared tremendous ice gorges will be formed, which would flood the entire valley with back-water.

RIVER RISING AT ST. PAUL.

It Is Caused by Melting Snow it the Woods.

St. Paul, April 9.-The Mississippi River created surprise this morning by beginning to rise here again, and tonight at 6 o'clock the gauge marked 17.9 feet. The people along the river have begun to n again. Signal service officers say the rise is occasioned by melting snow in the wood It snowed heavily for two hours this morn ing, and all disappeared by 3 p. m.

The Relief Society found five families with seventeen children, huddled together in one little house on Commercial street today. Several of them were sick, an were removed to the city hospital, and the others were furnished with good food and clothing after being taken to high ground.

ALL THE LEVEES BROKEN.

The Country for Twenty-five Miles Around Greenville Under Water. 8t. Louis, April 8 .- For thirty hours, ending last night, rain fell in the valley of the Mississippi from Keckuk south to Hickman, Ky. The river had begun to fall slowly and the rain only kept it at a steady gauge. Dispatches from below give small encouragement for early relief. All the levees are broken at intervals. The most serious condition exists around Green ville, Miss, where the whole country for twenty-five miles on either side of the river is under water. Planters have abandoned hope of raising a crop, even should the flood subside immediately.

The loss of life is uncommonly rate, as all have been warned. STORIES OF DISTRESS.

Isolated Victims of the Flood Found Starved to Death.

Memphis, Tenn., April 9.-The balmy, spring weather which has prevailed in the overflowed district for the last severa days, and has made life for the refugee at least bearable, was replaced yesterday by a cold, drizzling rain, which brought much suffering with it. Many of the refugees had no means of warming themselves, unless they burned the platforms on which they were standing, and which were built to keep them and their goods out of

In some parts of the overflowed country the seas which have been made by the backwater. Many houses which had withstood the backwater which was around and in them, were loosened by the storm, and floated away. At Rosedale, Miss., a me owned by the Memphis Cotto Oil Mill Company, used to store cotton seed in, was blown from its foundations, which were under water, and was sunk in ten feet of water. There were 150 colored refugees in the house, but it is thought most of them escaped.

The life savers nucle a horrible find within twenty miles of Memphis, in Arkan-sas yesterday. It was thought that this entire country was under water and no life savers had penetrated it, knowing, or thinking, those who had not left the country had been drowned. Yesterday two men went far into the interior to carry provisions to some people who, with their cattle and horses, are living in the midst of the overflow, on the top of an Indian mound, with which that (Crittenden) county abounds. On the return trip the men lost their way. They saw the top of a mound just above the water and made toward it, thinking they would possibly spend the night there. When they reached the mound, they found the bodies of a man, woman and child who had been dead for many days. The mound on which the bodies were found is right in the track of a break which occurred in a private levee about a month ago. The water had swept down on the people, and they had reached the mound, but not having expected the break or any danger from high water they had no boots, and after reaching the mound had starved to death. Each day discoveries similar to the above are being In the Yazoo Delta, telow here, the flood conditions, instead of growing bet-ter, are growing worse. Greenville, Miss., is cut off from the world. Clarkstale. Miss., which is fifteen miles inland, is reached only by beat, the water between the city and the river being deep enough to float a river steamer drawing ten feet of water. It is a deplorable sight to see a great river plowing over plantations which, a month ago, were worth thousands of dollars. Vicksburg, Miss., is up on her hills, with a sea of water on all sides of her. Conhoma, Miss, is under water and deserted, and there are sixty other towns within a radius of 200 miles of Memphis.

Representative Gambiil (Hunter Republican) embraced Baldwin and implanted a kiss on his cheek. Hunter had reached sixty-three votes, within two of an elec-tion, and Senator Stege (folling Republican) said to the Hunter people, if they could get one other vote, he would then come to Hunter and elect him. The black-burn people again tried to break a quorum and when the end of the roll-call was reached Ellipin (Hunter Republican) demanded President Worthington to announce the vote before the absentees were called and show Hunter's election. Worthington refused and an appeal from the chair was asked, but also denied.

The third ballot resulted as the second and a vote for an adjournment resulted in a tie, 64 to 64. President Worthington voted this time for adjournment. He declared the house adjourned but the Republicans refused to leave their seats. After a wrangle on the question of the right of the chair to vote on any matter affecting the Senatorship, an adjournment was had and the Republicans left the ball. The Hunter people claim they will elect their candidate tomorrow.

A cancus was held tonight between the bolting Republicans and sound money benne rats, with a view to centering on Henry L. Martin, sound money Democrat, and give the Blackburn people a chance to elect Blackburn's manager.
